

Leather Pro's,

Hello, Chris here. I'm not ready to launch the full version of the leatherhelp network yet. But I'm always interested in getting to know others in the leather biz. The success of our industry depends upon supporting and recommending one another more than ever. So for now:

1. E-mail me if you're interested in networking so we can build our leather businesses.
2. Send me an article so I can get your information up on the site. Check out this page for more info, submit an article

So send me an e-mail at leatherhelpguy@gmail.com I'd love to talk with you.

Chris
